Chad Rossit when i first meet him gave me a ride on his motorcycle around Lakeview he had to put a little tiny seed on it wasn't very comfy but it was lots of fun and I seen him just now long ago and he was going to give me another ride as soon as I seen him again because I was on my way out I seen him up playing pool here in town in Greenville he said next time I see you I'll give you another ride I said I'd love that and I'm sad that I'm not going to see him again and I won't get that bike ride or see his smiling face or get his big hugs again. he always gave me a big hugs when ever i seen him and would ask how i am he would buy me a drink and sit down with me because he honestly was a caring man he would stop doing what ever he was doing and listen to me smiling even if he was playing pool something he loved doing. Well i remember another night it was pouring down rain. I couldn't hardly see out my window i wasn't far from his place in Newaygo. he told me I was talking to him on the phone he told me he had a place there i could go there. to be safe out of the rain off the bad raods. he came out and made sure that I got there to his place safely. i followed him there we sat there all night talking he showed me his medals his MMA fighting. medals and his medals he got from when he was in the service. and talked about his family and my family how much he loved his sister and his kids and how he hope that he was a great roll model For his Sisters her kids cuz they need a good man in their lives that teach them good things and that's what he wanted to do. especially her son and how he hopped he showed his daughters what a good man is and that they. they would be proud of him and would always be happy and have a good life and that they would always try to make good choices and that whatever man they found would treat them right. but if they didn't he would hurt them. of course he would he was an MMA fighter and and chad there his daughters no one messes with we laughed i understood that cuz i have 2 daughters. i wouldn't let anyone messes with either. Lol I could tell he loved his family very much he would do anything for them to make sure they was all happy and had a good lives no matter what if he could make it happen. But anyway when the rain stopped he went out and cleaned my windows so i could see good with vinegar and newspaper. It worked lol and then he had me follow him all the way back cuz he was headed to his sister's where he lived cuz he only stayed over there sometimes. but he wanted to make sure that I got back home safely so he went the way that I had to go. he went out of his way just to make sure I got home safe now thats what i call a great man! you will be missed for sure chad i will miss your big hugs good bye my friend life is way to short! 😞

My deepest sympathies and condolences to his adored daughters, family and friends. The proudest father, the love could never be measured in his words, there would not be enough room to store it. Chad and I spoke often of exchanging numbers of our kids in military, my son is a Marine, based in Hawaii also. I had only met him several months ago, his charm and sparkly wit left a lasting impression. I will miss the Facebook banter. RIP my friend and guide us from above.
